The news of the cession of Samana
Bay to a New York company has crasted some excitement among the Santo Domingo bondholders in London, who held a meeting at the Swan tavern on the eighth of February. The chairman of the meeting, Mr. Gertenberg, said that in July, 1870, the Santo Doningo government had repudiated the loan which it had contracted in 1869.
The security of this loan was three-fold;
